Editorial

October has been a bit of a blur to me as my baby grandson Max arrived halfway through the month. He did make it to the Grand Opening of the Village Hall and it was great to see so many villagers there. After all the months of planning and building it was really satisfying to see the hugely improved facilities and I hope that we will have many more events in the future.

Please send emails to me, Mandy Ray, by the 20th of each month.

Vicar's Letter

A question that keeps popping up goes like this: 'Who is church for?' It is one everyone can have an answer for, whether or not you happen to attend a local church or do your best to avoid the experience! I hope you will look at the question - whether it be in an arm-chair, at a PCC meeting, with friends over a meal or in the local pub.

It is always an urgent question. George Carey, our Archbishop of Canterbury through the '90s, often says: 'The church is only ever one generation away from extinction.' I suspect he has often used it as a sort of wake-up call to a significant number of sincere churchgoers whose preference appears to want the church to remain as it is or even revert to a form and modus operandi they enjoyed in bygone days. What Carey wants us to grasp is that if we really believe in the role of the church we will want it to make sense to generations to come and not just be there for the remainder of our lifetime. Another well-known leading cleric once put it like this: 'The church is the only organisation that exists for the benefit of non-members.'

But is there another answer waiting for us to find; a perspective that says the church exists first and foremost for God?

I am often challenged by the briefest mention Jesus made of the church. He said it is his to build and the task he gave his followers was to go and make disciples, rather than grow church attendance figures! Not that I am agin people going to church - far from it; but I do believe the first call on practising Christians is to be church and do church for God. I suspect it is a perspective that could have far-reaching and subversive consequences.

I am still finding my way around and just starting to unearth the many amazing people in the 14 villages that are covered by the Papworth Team Ministry. I am very struck by strong community bonds and often close inter-relatedness of people. Earlier today someone called out asking if I had seen 'so-and-so at such-and-such this morning' only to discover that she was referring to her mother and the church I had been to earlier was the one she had been married in.

I find that FAMILY is about the best motif for a group of Christians who meet regularly and feel bonds of fellowship with one another. This should not surprise us because we meet God as family in the Bible - we approach and pray to 'Our Father', we acknowledge Jesus as both Saviour and Son of God; and (whilst it is often harder to grasp) many (inspired by St Augustine in the 5th century AD) have come to understand the Holy Spirit as akin to the love there is between the Love between Father and Son.

What is abundantly clear to me is our churches have a pivotal contribution to the community and life of the villages we serve. This stands out as we mark some important dates in calendar. We have just celebrated Harvest. We are now in the season of Remembrance and very soon will hurtle into Advent and Christmas. Please keep your eyes and ears open for the details of special services close to where you live.

All of us are very aware of the importance of serving others who are facing struggles often bigger than our own. It's what families do instinctively, what many people do as good neighbours and people of generosity and compassion. In recent years Food Banks have become a vital means of supporting people facing acute hardship. I suspect they will continue to expand as poorer families have to face up to imminent cuts in Tax Credits. One practical way of enhancing what do already is to look for '2-4-1' offers when we do our own shopping; and, if such offers include items that local Food Banks can use, I encourage everyone to seize the moment and give the extra 'freebie' to a Food Bank near where you live. I know some offers are often not as good as they first appear but, in the end, if we are to give something away there has to be a measure of sacrifice and cost.

For me this is one thing that God is looking for in such a time as this and most of us may be able to do just a little bit more.

Churchyard wall

The rebuilding of the northern churchyard was on the PCC's to-do list for many years; it has now at last been completed! Because our church is Grade 1 listed there was a lengthy process of consulting Historic England and obtaining planning permission from the District Council and a Faculty from the Registrar of the Diocese of Ely before work could begin. Many thanks are due to the following: Neil and Sarah Weatherhead for kick-starting the project with a generous donation, when they left Kingston 3 years ago; Simon Gardner for providing the services of his planning consultant, Charmain Hawkins of Beacon Planning Ltd, and structural engineer, Nigel Wilson of Andrew Firebrace Ltd; Jane Logan at the Diocese of Ely;

Home Communion

If you are a regular worshipper and become housebound we still want you to be able to share in the life of your Christian community. If you are having difficulty getting to church, but a lift would make that possible please contact the team office on 01954 719718 and we will be able to help. If you cannot get out and would like to receive Holy Communion at home please let the office know and we will arrange for the sacrament to be brought to you on a regular basis. This also applies to those who are seriously ill and bed bound.

Mr McMillan of North Farmhouse for additional bricks; Steve Wilson, of Great Eversden for digging out the foundation; the sublime Myles Yallop of The Limecrete Company in Norfolk for providing the limecrete backfill; Adam Rogers, of Hardwick, and his team – a rare breed who actually enjoy using traditional lime mortar – who have made such an excellent job of the brickwork.

This project would not have been within the means of the PCC without the input of a significant number of volunteers who took down the wall and cleaned the old hand-made bricks, laid the foundation, prepared the site and cleared up afterwards. They were: Chris Allison, Bob Bourne, James, Janet and Sam Clear, Jack, Woody and Jimmy Diggle, Barry Marsh, Mandy Ray, Chris Reid, Linda Rimmer, Charlie Richmond, Torrie Smith, and Peter Stokes. Particular thanks are due to the Clear family for the use of South Sea Farm's vehicles and facilities; and, finally, to Stuart and Sue Dagleish, of Church Cottage, who not only made a significant donation towards the cost, but provided their own labour and endless hospitality throughout.

Village Hall Grand Re-opening Party

More than 80 people gathered in the village hall on Saturday 17 October to celebrate the re-opening after nearly 8 months of building work. A few stalwart volunteers had been hard at work in the preceding few days, clearing and cleaning the hall, and decorating it with balloons and bunting. A stand-up meal of baked potatoes was served with a choice of chilli beef, cheese or baked beans as fillings. The bar was open and there was a jolly atmosphere, with VIP guests including Jonathan Park from BBC Look East who performed the official opening ceremony, Mark Stalham, Chairman of the Village Hall Management Committee, Tim Fitzjohn, Chairman of the Parish Council, Tumi Hawkins, our District Councillor, Sarah Gosling from WREN (one of the funders), Steve Pugh, the architect, and Rev Alexandra Clarke, Kingston's vicar.

Glasses of bubbly were passed around for the opening ceremony, with short speeches from Tim Fitzjohn, Mark Stalham and Jon Park. Many people stayed on for a drink and to chat with friends and neighbours after the formalities were over.

The new facilities represent Phase 1 of the planned upgrade of the hall, and include a new 'small hall' with pitched roof, new kitchen, new toilets, and new entrance lobby with full disabled access. The floor has been levelled so that all areas are now on one level with no steps and there is a new boiler and heating in the small hall.

The Village Hall Management Committee will now start work on planning Phase 2, which will centre on the large hall and will include a new floor, new heating and lighting, rewiring, and insulation both for sound and heat. It is also hoped to complete the kitchen, which was only partly equipped in Phase 1 due to shortage of funding. In the meantime, some funding has been promised by the Parish Council to carry out work to improve the area outside the building, including the car park.

Heidi Allen's October Newsletter

Even though Parliament's recess is now over, I am still getting out and about in the constituency.

It was back to school not once, but three times as I paid visits to William Westley Primary, Monkfield Primary and Hills Road Sixth Form College. It was a touch of the familiar at William Westley as the all-important election results for school councillors was due to be announced. It was great to see young children already so engaged in democracy.

An award winner of different sorts was on the timetable next as I visited the Cambridge Evening News Primary School of the Year, Monkfield Primary in Cambourne. It was evident why they had won from the moment I walked through the door. I don't think I have ever seen children so engaged, from cross curricular working to an entire lesson conducted in Spanish. The teaching at Monkfield truly is first class and all the staff and head should be tremendously proud of what they have achieved at this shining example of a school. I am so grateful for the opportunity to have seen one of South Cambridgeshire's finest schools in action.

I have extended an invite to the pupils at Monkfield and William Westley to come and visit me in Parliament.

Student politics was as alive and feisty as ever when I attended a Q&A session hosted by Hills road Sixth Form College alongside my city counterpart Daniel Zeichner. It was a chance for some of Cambridgeshire's best and brightest young adults to quiz Daniel and I on matters from student loans to housing

On 20 September, I was honoured to be invited as a guest to the Battle of Britain Air Show at the Imperial War Museum, Duxford. I feel so lucky to have this fabulous historical facility in my constituency. Clear skies, 20 Spitfires, need I say more?

The following week I scrubbed up and visited Papworth Hospital just days after its cardiothoracic surgeons were announced as some of the best in the country. During my visit I observed a number of procedures, viewed the hospital's state-of-the-art Critical Care Lab and met with senior staff from the hospital.

It very quickly became clear to me why local people are so proud of Papworth. I have only one word to describe what I saw, "wow". When compassion, skill, technology and science come together, you create something very special and I saw that in action.

In September I also met with the board of Addenbrooke's and spent a day in a GP's surgery. The staff who make our NHS what it is should be very proud of themselves.

Although the challenges that our NHS face are huge, both operationally and financially I have committed to working with them in partnership to ensure they get the support they need to carry on delivering 1st class services. We are in this together.

Retirement of Brian Page, Church Architect

Brian Page, Dipl Arch (PCL), RIBA, of Archimage Ltd. was appointed Architect to the PCC in 2001, following Peter Hall's retirement. Brian's first task was to oversee the installation of a new gas-fired heating system in 2002, which also entailed the rewiring of the electrics throughout the church: this was a major achievement, following years of negotiations with what was then English Heritage, and the consideration of various schemes for the works. His second major programme of works was the complete re-roofing of the north aisle, with associated repairs to the clerestory windows in 2008-2009. He also made three of the statutory Quinquennial reports on the fabric for the PCC during his term of office (repeatedly drawing attention to the need to carry out repairs to the church tower). Brian didn't just provide detailed and meticulous plans and specifications, he gave active support to the PCC in applying for grants, supervising contractors, managing contracts and budgets, and was always available for advice. His good humour made him a pleasure to work with. We record a great debt of gratitude to Brian and wish him a long and happy retirement.

Comberton Library

Opening Hours:

Mon: 10am-1pm

Wed: 10am-1pm, 2pm-5pm

Fri: 2pm-5pm

Sat: 10am-1pm

More details can be found on the Library Service website at www.cambridgeshire.gov.uk/libraries

Volunteer needed!

Could you spare half-an-hour once a fortnight during term-time to sing with some of the lovely little ones who visit our library? From January we're looking to find a new volunteer to host our Rhymetime sessions for local babies (and their grown-ups). We need someone who can sing popular action and nursery rhymes for half an hour on a Monday morning in the library with our little group, but who doesn't have a child of their own to look after during the session. Toy props and shakers are provided, as is training in how to run a Rhymetime.

Upcoming Rhymetime sessions: 2nd 16th and 30th Nov, 14th Dec (10.30-11.00am). Please note that although these sessions are aimed at very young children we welcome older siblings and pre-schoolers who enjoy singing too!

And look out for the next Rotating Collection, we'll soon be replacing our Wildlife collection with "Dystopia"...

Comberton Reading Group

Comberton Reading Group meets on the first Wednesday of each month in the library, between 10.30 and 11.30am. If you are interested in joining a fun and lively chat about a wide variety of titles ask at the library for details.
