Editorial

I am writing this from the comfort of my recliner chair after hip replacement surgery on 7 November. Things are going in the right direction and I'm back at home in the care of my lovely daughter. My world has shrunk a bit for the time being and lots of planning and re-arranging is going on. Seems like Covid lockdown all over again.

As we approach Christmas, the magazine is full of news of the Christmas Fair. Please do support this major fund-raising event. It's a great social gathering and raises money to keep our Village Hall going, something we all benefit from. Also, and very importantly, we have the news of the church re-opening. Carolling round the village should also happen as usual. Look out for information on all of this in all the usual places. All welcome to these events.

Vicar's Letter:

Did you know?

There is always more to people in the public eye than we are aware of. The funeral of the late Sir Bobby Charlton is taking place as I write this piece. He is rightly and widely acclaimed for his achievements as perhaps the greatest footballer to have represented England and Manchester United. What is less well-known is the laudable charitable work and interests he gave himself to in later life; also, who, again in later years, had fallen out with two members of his own family. We all have our Achilles' heel; a point of weakness that can leave us and others vulnerable, unless exceptional care is taken to guard against the impact of such frailties.

An inability or unwillingness to forgive and be reconciled can be an example of what I mean. These same sentiments manifest themselves in the global conflicts seen in the wars between Palestinian HAMAS and Israel as well as between Ukraine and Russia. In matters we understand very little about – particularly over strained relationships between people we hardly know – reconciliation requires both parties to a dispute to come together. I am responsible for doing all I can to mend something broken I am associated with, but I can't answer for the other party. Forgiveness is something different, whether our 'issues' are small or significant.

Without forgiveness we can't be reconciled and restored in relationships that have fallen into disrepair. Forgiveness is the gift of someone who has been hurt or offended, towards the perpetrator of wrongful behaviour. It is not dependent on whether forgiveness is received and embraced. Part of the challenge can be in knowing I may forgive someone and still the breach between us is not healed – because the other person is unwilling to see the relationship restored. It may be even more daunting when both parties are perpetrators of wrongs, and the only difference may be in the degrees of forgiveness needed on either side!

Christians ought to be top notch forgivers of others. This is because we believe we are beneficiaries of God's unconditional and unmerited forgiveness to us, expressed in the life, death and resurrection of Jesus. This casts a new light on Christmas and preparing for a new year.

Christmas is when we celebrate the birth of Jesus who came to secure our forgiveness by God and to model what forgiveness and reconciliation looks like among us. Let's use this season to leave no stone unturned in choosing to forgive and making sure the other party knows they have been forgiven.

We may feel very gloomy right now about the prospects for peace in Ukraine and between Israel and HAMAS; also, whether our own 'issues' will ever be sorted. God sees them differently. He has not given up on us or on what can transpire in today's global conflicts. That's why He is described in the Bible as 'the God of hope', for whom nothing is impossible. The Prince of peace invites us to be peace-makers for our times and circumstances.

Nave ceiling, south clerestory and south aisle roof repairs

Because the works were going beyond Natural England's deadline of 7th November, the PCC was obliged to commission a bat survey which was carried out by greenwillows associates, of Warboys, on November 6th: they found plenty of evidence of bats in the church, but their assessment was that we weren't causing any undue disturbance to them. As we go to press, the date for completion of the works is November 24th, but there have been further delays and it is likely to be the week following before everything is concluded.

Inspection for bats:

greenwillows ecological consultants 6.11.2023

The clerestory windows have been cleaned and repaired internally, where necessary, including repointing the stonework. The redecoration of the nave arcade walls wants only one more coat of casein distemper, which was chosen in preference to limewash, because of the presence of an earlier powdery substrate. Mark Perry of Perry-Lithgow is due to attend to clean and repair the chancel arch wall painting whilst the scaffolding remains in situ. The roofers have had to contend with a lot of wet weather but more than half of the south aisle has been finished. The PCC now has about 2,000 reclaimed peg tiles to sell: is anyone interested?

Richard Lithgow

We were saddened to hear of the sudden and unexpected death of Richard Lithgow on October 9th. Based in Oxfordshire, Richard formed the Perry-Lithgow partnership with Mark Perry in 1983, and they became the pre-eminent specialists in the conservation of wall paintings throughout the British Isles. Over the last forty years they have carried out more than two hundred projects, including several cathedrals and the palaces of Westminster, Kensington and Hampton Court. In 2010 they won the Pilgrim Trust Award for Conservation. Both have been very much involved with the Institute of Conservation (ICON). Here, at All Saints and St Andrew, after decades of neglect following the treatment of our murals by Professor Tristram in the 1920s, they began their work in the chancel in 1989, proceeding to the north aisle in 1993, the chancel arch in 1998 and, in 2020, the late C16/early C17 black letter texts above the nave arcade. In all cases their painstaking and meticulous work followed detailed surveys and concluded with exemplary reports and advice on maintenance. Richard and Mark have always been a pleasure to work with. Mark now continues as the sole Director of the business.

Films in the Village Hall

The screen and projector in the large hall and the TV in the small hall have proved popular for viewing sporting events and the Coronation. Without a film licence we can only screen live broadcasts, but the committee will consider purchasing a licence for around £300 if there is sufficient interest within the community. Contact me if you are interested in forming or participating in a film club, or something less formal such as get-togethers to watch films or catch-up TV.

Village 20 MPH Speed Limit Application Update

Unfortunately, our initial application to have Kingston included in the initial allocation for the 20 mph traffic calming scheme was unsuccessful. The scheme has proved to be highly popular with many villages and sadly only 20 were selected to benefit initially.

There is however a new application period due to open from 15th January 2024 until 15th March 2024 therefore the Parish council will be submitting a further application which we hope will be successful.

District Councillor News

South Cambs Magazine

Every household in the district receives a copy of the quarterly SouthCambs magazine. The Winter edition should land on doorsteps from 20 November to 2 December. Please email scdc@smartdistribution.co.uk or call 0800 6444 01 if it does not get to you. The last edition is available online at: <https://www.scambs.gov.uk/your-council-and-democracy/the-south-cambs-magazine/>.

Cambridge 2040

This is the Michael Gove grand plan to build 200,000 houses in the Cambridge area between now and 2040. Mr Peter Freeman (Homes England Chief Exec) whom he has selected to head the Cambridge Delivery (super)Group has started to have meetings with the main stakeholders in Greater Cambridge to understand the area better and the work that is already being done here.

A Water Group has also been set up to look at the solution to the water challenge that the area faces. The Cambridge 2040 plan is going nowhere if the water issue is not resolved.

South Cambs Hall Ground Floor Project

The District Council is converting an area of the ground floor space at South Cambridgeshire Hall into an attractive space for hire for use by individuals, businesses, and community groups who are looking for “meanwhile” desk, collaborative and meeting space. There will be facilities such as standard desk and meeting room space and a podcast room. The aim is to make this space into a hive of entrepreneurial activity which has support, collaboration and idea sharing at its heart. The work is well underway, and we expect the space to be open April 2024

Visiting Support Team

The District Council offers a visiting support service to residents who are 65 years or older. It is a short-term support service providing confidential, emotional, financial and practical support and promoting independent living in the community. Referral can be through family or friends, GP or someone else in the community. They also support younger adults living in supported or sheltered housing, providing assistance with managing money and health, helping tackle loneliness and social isolation, and staying safe. Here’s a video explaining more <https://bit.ly/VisitSupportTeam> or call the Council on 01954 713000.

Cost of Living Support

South Cambridgeshire residents are being encouraged to ensure they take advantage of all the cost-of-living support they are entitled to this winter. As weather gets colder and more is spent on heating, the District Council is urging residents and organisations to make full use of assistance available. Apparently 25% of benefits are going unclaimed. Check what you are entitled to at <https://www.entitledto.co.uk/>. A list of local foodbanks is at <https://www.scambs.gov.uk/foodbanks>. Also get energy saving advice, find out about grants to improve home insulation to cut energy bills. More details on the council's webpage at <https://www.scambs.gov.uk/cost-of-living-support/>.

Draft Homeless Strategy Consultation

The Council is consulting on its new draft Homeless Strategy (2023-2028) from now to 5th of January 2024. A review of homelessness within the district looked at the numbers and trends relating to homelessness as well as factors affecting this. The strategy sets out how the Council plans to respond to and tackle homelessness within the district over the next five year period and how to provide suitable housing options. The consultation documents can be found on the council website <https://www.scambs.gov.uk/homeless-strategy> where you can also give your feedback.

Four Day Week Trial

As I've stated in monthly reports, the District Council has been trialling a four-day week to try and resolve staff recruitment and retention issues. This area is very expensive to live in, and public sector pay and conditions cannot compete with the private sector. However, the Minister Lee Rowley took a dislike to the trial and continues to make over-reaching decisions instructing the trial be stopped because he "doesn't think it will work" without hearing the real facts. He has refused to accept the invitations of the Council Leader for a face-to-face meeting and issued "Government guidance" instructing councils not to take up 4DW. Furthermore, a Best Value Notice has been issued and Government is now asking the Council to provide weekly reports of every type of performance data and kitchen sink they could come up with. The trial results so far show Council performance is maintained, great savings are being made as the council has filled 14 out of 23 hard-to-fill posts previously covered by agency staff, so slashing costs to the taxpayer by hundreds of thousands of pounds. Staff turnover has reduced by 36% and sickness levels down by a third. Staff motivation, health and wellbeing is boosted leading to fewer staff wanting to leave and greater consistency in service delivery to residents. The latest performance reports can be found on the council website for the recent Cabinet and the Staffing & Employment Meetings. The trial is continuing. South Cambs offices remain open 5 days a week, and the Contact centre is open longer hours than before the trial. The out of hours emergency response officers are available 24/7 and a new webchat service is available.

Weather Issues - Flooding advice and sandbags

Following recent heavy rains, the Council is reminding residents about the importance of being prepared for possible flooding as we go into the winter months. This is especially the case for residents whose properties have flooded before. The flooding page of SCDC website at <https://www.scams.gov.uk/flooding> has a useful list of things residents can do in advance of rainfall, including signing-up for Flood Warnings, using the Government's Flood Information Service to check if a property is at risk of flooding and preparing a flood plan. It also has a list to ascertain what would need to be reported to which organisation in the event of a flood.

Tax-Free Childcare account

HM Revenue and Customs (HMRC) is reminding families to open a Tax-Free Childcare account to save on their yearly childcare bills. The scheme provides working families, with children up to the age of 11, or 16 if their child has a disability, up to £2,000 a year per child or £4,000 a year if their child is disabled. Go to <https://www.gov.uk/tax-free-childcare> to register and start saving. The Tax-Free Childcare guide for parents is at <https://www.childcarechoices.gov.uk/providers/guidance-and-resources/guidance-zone/parent-guide-to-tax-free-childcare>.

Regular Updates

Don't forget to check out my monthly reports to the parish councils on my blog at www.tumihawkins.org.uk/caldecote-ward/reports for full details on these and more.
