The main church fundraiser is happening this month. Once again we are planning to open the tower to give villagers a unique view of the village and surrounding countryside. Intrepid teddies will be able to parachute off the tower so come and make your teddy's parachute during the day. Secondhand books and cards on sale. The Parish Cream Tea will be held in the Orchard from 3.30pm. All events are free to villagers but donations to the church are welcomed. Hope to see you there!

Holiday season is approaching. Let's see how far the magazine can get this summer! Please take a photo of the magazine in your holiday destination and send it in.

Please send emails to me, Mandy Ray, by the 20th of each month.

Vicar's Letter

July heralds warmth and blooming gardens for us; long summer evenings, fields swaying with tall crops and possibly the thought of a holiday away from it all for a week or two. Exams are over, schools break up and for many there is a welcome feeling of peace and rest as we touch the mid-point of the year.

July has long been a time of celebration and many customs and traditions have grown up around it. Although it is the 7th month of the year for us, it was the 5th month in the calendar of the ancient Romans: they called it Quintilius, which means 5th, but the Roman Senate changed it to Julius (July) in honour of Julius Caesar, who was born on 12th July. The Anglo-Saxon names for July were Heymonath or Maed, referring to hay-making and the flowering of meadows.

We have our own local summer traditions, like our village fetes, but there are many quirky and quaint July customs around the country, for example Swan-upping: this annual census of swans on a 70-mile stretch the River Thames takes place during a 5 day journey up the river in July. The Whitstable Oyster season officially begins on 25th July, which is St James' Day. Whitstable Bay on the north Kent coast has long been famous for its oysters. Old Kentish tradition has it that Julius Caesar was attracted to Britain because of Whitstable oysters. On St James' Day, locals hold an Oyster festival, when fishers and dredgers celebrate with a festival of thanksgiving.

Saints' Days were often the basis for local customs and beliefs. Perhaps the most famous is St Swithun's Day on 15th July. The belief is that whatever the weather is on this day will remain for the next 40 days:

St Swithun's Day, if thou dost rain

For forty days it will remain.

St Swithun's Day, if thou be fair,

For forty days 'twill rain nae mair.

It's a month closely associated with the family and friends of Jesus. His grandparents, the parents of the Virgin Mary, Anna and Joachim, are commemorated on 26th July. In addition to James, another of Jesus's closest friends, Thomas (famous as 'Doubting Thomas') is remembered on 3rd July and the first person that Jesus appeared to after his resurrection, Mary Magdalene, is celebrated on 22nd July. One of the families which was closest to Jesus, Mary, Martha and Lazarus, is remembered on 29th July: they frequently offered him hospitality in their home, and when Lazarus died Jesus wept with sorrow. Jesus restored Lazarus to life, four days after his death, as a sign of the new resurrection life Jesus was himself soon to experience.

I hope that July is a time of peace and restoration for you, whether that involves time away with friends and family taking part in special summer events or enjoying summer life in our beautiful villages.

The Home Front in Cambridgeshire

This summer a broad range of events and activities will be taking place across the county to mark the 70th anniversary of the end of World War II.

“The Home Front: Cambridgeshire Commemorates the End of WWII” is an online programme of community events taking place between May and September 2015. This programme marks an opportunity for Cambridgeshire residents to come together to remember the wartime effort, celebrate the peace in 1945 and learn and reminisce about the 'unforgettable forties' era. Get involved and help to recreate some of the mood and spirit of the summer of 1945 in Cambridgeshire in 2015.

Home Communion

If you are a regular worshipper and become housebound we still want you to be able to share in the life of your Christian community. If you are having difficulty getting to church, but a lift would make that possible please contact the team office on 01954 719718 and we will be able to help. If you cannot get out and would like to receive Holy Communion at home please let the office know and we will arrange for the sacrament to be brought to you on a regular basis. This also applies to those who are seriously ill and bed bound.

'Rendezvous Holiday Week 2015'

Tuesday 18th - Friday 21st August in Papworth.

(4 days of activities for the over 65s).

The speaker at our June meeting was John Savill who gave us a very interesting history of Punch and Judy from its beginnings in Commedia dell 'Arte in fifteenth century Italy. The plays began with actors but the Italians were adept at producing marionettes and using booths. The tradition came to England via France and was first noted by Samuel Pepys in 1662. After the Puritan era, people were ready for entertainment of this type. Eventually the marionettes gave way to glove puppets so that one person, known as the Professor, could operate all of them. He had an accomplice called the Bottler who collected the takings in a bottle, to prevent pilfering. Having begun in fairs, the booth moved to the seaside in the 1850s when travel became available to the masses.

Punch and Judy had a difficult period in the late twentieth century when it was seen as misogynistic and encouraging domestic abuse. However, it has survived that period and is enjoyed by all ages again.

John gave us a short show featuring all the well known characters and storylines and members enjoyed it thoroughly.

Date for diary: Tuesday 14th July at 7.45pm in the Village Hall, Comberton.

Our speaker is David Palmer, auctioneer and well known for his television appearances.

This meeting, open to all, men and women, will cost £3 for guests.

Kingston Village Hall Renovation Update

Work on the village hall renovation is currently running 5 weeks behind schedule but by the time you read this article, hopefully the roof will have been fully tiled and the scaffolding will have been struck. It is then over to the internal contractors (!) The building is beginning to look impressively spacious from both outside and inside. Some minor repairs to the gable end window of the old hall have been undertaken whilst access was easy.

Events organised by the Village Hall Management Committee have purposely ceased on commencement of the renovation, since the village hall was used for most of the autumn/winter events and pub evenings. However, there will be grand opening ceremony in July or August following completion of Phase 1 and next month's newsletter will detail further planned events.

We look forward to welcoming residents and their families and guests back to the new village hall.

Opera in the gardens at Wimpole

Handel's Acis and Galatea: A musical tale of love, jealousy and transformation.

Young and talented orchestra Eboracum Baroque will be bringing an outdoor performance of Handel's pastoral opera, Acis and Galatea, to the Old Rectory Restaurant Garden at Wimpole on Saturday 4th July.

This pastoral serenata or 'little opera' was originally composed for the Duke of Chandos at Cannons in 1718. Wimpole's own Master of the Music at this time, Thomas Tudway, was a great admirer of Handel's music and many of his compositions imitated Handel's style.

The audience will be able to relax with their picnics in this beautiful garden and enter into the world of Acis, a simple shepherd, and Galatea, a semi-divine nymph.

The two are deeply in love but their delight is interrupted by the arrival of the wretched giant Polyphemus, whose jealous love for Galatea causes him to 'rage' and 'burn'. Acis's fellow shepherds warn him he will be unable to overcome the wrath of Polyphemus, but Acis is undaunted and pledges his eternal love for Galatea. Polyphemus, in witnessing this tender moment, flies into a drunken rage, brutally beating Acis to death.

The opera concludes with Galatea transforming Acis's body into a beautiful stream, thus immortalising him in nature.

Eboracum Baroque will perform with a small orchestra, soloists and chorus. Directed by Chris Parsons. This is a semi-staged, concert performance.

The opera starts at 7pm, and finishes at 9.30 with a 20 minute interval at 8pm. Gates open at 6.30pm, so there is plenty of time to get settled with your picnic. The restaurant will also be open until after the interval.

Tickets are now on sale, priced at £18 (adult) and £9 (child)

Life as a new MP

Heidi Allen new MP for South Cambridgeshire has had a busy first few weeks both in Westminster and here in the constituency. Since being elected on 7th May, Heidi has set up her offices and taken on support staff to work with her in Hardwick and at the House of Commons. Constituents and organisations have already contacted her on local and national issues ranging from problems with school transport to the EU referendum and from flooding to changes in Royal Mail and Post Office services. Keen to hear the views of local residents and help with any issues they may have, she has established a schedule of local surgeries over the next few months. Details of how residents can contact Heidi or book a surgery appointment can be found on her website www.heidisouthcambs.co.uk, on the Parish Council notice board or by telephoning 01954 212707.

In addition, Heidi recently had the pleasure of meeting Hannah Gautrey, a student of Long Road, having won East Anglian Vocational Qualification Learner of the Year 2015 (pictured.) Heidi has participated in a number of debates in the House of Commons, including questioning the Secretary of State for Culture, Media and Sport on the roll out of superfast broadband. To explore new technologies available to connect the hardest to reach rural areas in South Cambridgeshire, Heidi will meet with Ministers later this month. Commenting Heidi said, 'Since the election things have been exceptionally hectic and there has been a lot to learn! But now I have my offices and fantastic staff in place, we have rolled up our sleeves and are getting stuck in with helping people. I am thoroughly enjoying the challenge.' If you would like to find out more about what Heidi gets up to, take a look at her weekly videos on You Tube <https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCGvYX2XAzThq0t4jds-r1IQ>

Update on "Bourn Free" - rediscovering the Bourn Brook

Slipping through the countryside almost unnoticed, except for brief appearances at bridges and short sections of footpath, the Bourn Brook is a hidden treasure. It has many natural features other streams have lost, such as meandering bends and gravel shoals. The brook is home to numerous small fish, kingfisher, otter and water vole as well as forming part of barn owls' territories.

The Bourn Free project aims to tackle the various non-native invasive species which threaten the brook, particularly American mink, Himalayan balsam and giant hogweed, and to allow the brook and its native ecology to function naturally.

In particular we rely on volunteers to help control Himalayan balsam. This plant forms dense stands where no other plants can grow, and dies back in winter leaving banks vulnerable to erosion. This year will be the 4th year of balsam control on the brook, and we are certainly having an impact. There's a lot to do though, and we will attempt to tackle the whole length of the brook (around 20km).

If you are interested in helping with control of Himalayan balsam, we would love to have your help. There are various events over the summer. Most involve wading the brook (waders can be provided) so volunteers need to be physically able to get up and down the banks, but some work can be done from the bank. It would be helpful to know if you plan to come, so we will be sure to wait for you and make sure we bring waders in the right size.

Jane Austen's Northanger Abbey at Great Eversden 31st July

Over the past six years Dot Productions has toured classic theatre to open-air venues and theatres across the South East of the UK. Their productions are always performed by a minimal cast, with actors playing two or more characters in one play. Cross gender playing has also been a feature in the past, such as a male actor playing Lady Bracknell in 'The Importance of Being Earnest'. They have been complimented on their use of minimalist sets and always strive to be as imaginative as they can. They do not use a raised stage area. Costumes are always appropriate to the period of the play and examples can be seen on their gallery page – take a look at www.dot-productions.co.uk.

This year, Dot Productions will be performing Jane Austen's Northanger Abbey in the Garden of Sunnyside, Great Eversden, again in aid of The Friends of the Eversden Churches. As in previous years, when Biddy Boyd hosted the productions at Fir Tree House, the open-air venue is uncovered from the English summer and therefore you are advised to bring suitable protection from the elements. Raincoats or sun cream are a must in our unpredictable climate, but rest assured that the performance will go ahead unless it is unsafe to do so; in the case of thunder & lightning the show may be delayed until it is safe to continue. Tickets are non-refundable unless the show is cancelled.

So here are the details –

Friday 31st July – 7.30pm – the show lasts approximately two hours.

Venue. Sunnyside, 7 Church Street, Great Eversden CB23 1HU (at the far end of the gravel track opposite St Mary's Church). There is plenty of parking on the grass next to the track. Please feel free to bring seats or blankets, drinks and a picnic.

Tickets in advance £10, or £12 on the door
